

Training Facilities

A dedicated training centre

Strathallan House is a highly equipped, purpose built training centre based in Hertfordshire, with close links to main transport routes including the M25 and the M1, plus rail links to London Euston or the North via Milton Keynes and on-site parking.

The centre has been designed to the highest specification with multifunctional training rooms, meeting rooms and breakout facilities. The centre has been constructed with different size options available to suit client need and budget.

Centre Facilities

The rooms have been specified to the highest standard from a comfort and technology perspective. Work stations have been designed specifically to enhance the learning experience.

The multifunctional desks are ideal for all types of training and particularly well equipped for IT training. The flat screen monitor, keyboard and mouse can be put away and housed in the desk for a clear surface.

We are able to advise clients on the use of these facilities and the interactive whiteboards if required. The centre can add considerable value to any organisation with options to suit all budgets:

- IT training rooms
- Meeting rooms
- Breakout facilities
- Allocated resource for duration of your visit
- Catering
- Easy access by car, train or bus
- On-site parking
- Competitive rates
